—A little child of Mr. Phil Thompson, was severely bitten on the wrist last Saturday. The circumstances as we learn them were, that two or three dogs were having a free fight in the street in front of Mr. Thompson's house. The child in crossing the street came in contact with them and was accidentally bitten. Dr. Campbell was called, who cauterized the wound, and at this time the child is doing well.

—We publish in another column, minutes of a special meeting of the Mingo Chief Fire Company, of our town. The resolutions speak for themselves and will inform those unacquainted with the facts, that the meeting was one of pleasure, not only to the members of the Company but to Mr. Tritsch as well. Our Fire Department serve the people without pay, and we suggest that they deserve a banquet, in which all our citizens should become contributors.

Last Sunday evening, about five o'clock, a difficulty occurred at the Canal Locks, near the aqueduct, on the western border of Circleville, between Benjamin Beachell, the Lock Tender, and McClellan Groom of Lockbourne, which culminated in Beachell shooting and mortally wounding Groom, who died the next morning. Beachell has been held on bail in the sum of $6000 for murder in the second degree, in default of which he has been committed to jail.

HORRIBLE HOLOCAUST.

Near Baird's Furnace, Perry County, Ohio.—A Young Lady Burned to a Cinder in a Burning Dwelling.

On Thursday morning last the residence of Mrs. Bow, located on a high hill, three-fourths of a mile east of Baird's Furnace, was discovered to be on fire. Just how the fire originated is not positively known, but is supposed to be the result of a defective flue.

The house, together with all, or nearly all, of its contents were entirely consumed.

The old lady, who is a widow, had about $400 in money in the house at the time, which had been paid to her a day or two previous to the fire, and all of which was consumed.

Most horrible to relate, Miss Lizzie Bow, a daughter of the old lady, was burned to death. The young lady was somewhat weak in mind, and when last seen by her mother she was in her bedroom in the burning building. The mother called to her to get some clothing from the bed and come out at once.

Nothing more was seen of her until her charred remains were found among the debris.

From the position in which the remains were found, it is supposed that in her fright she took refuge under the bed, and so met a horrible death. Her widowed mother who is now also homeless, has the sympathy of the whole community in her sad bereavement and great loss.

Minutes of Special Meeting of the Fire Company.

Logan, O., Aug. 19 1886.

At the ringing of the fire bell, the members of the Mingo Chief Fire Company met at the engine house and fell in ranks as their names were called, and marched to Mr. Montgomery's restaurant and ice cream parlors to a supper, given by Jacob Tritsch and served by Mr. Montgomery and lady.

After partaking of a bountiful supply of ice cream, lemonade and cake, our worthy Mayor, A. Steinman was elected chairman of the meeting. Mr. P. Doyle read the following resolutions which were adopted by a rising vote.

Whereas Mr. J. E. Tritsch has extended to our courtesies on this evening, Aug. 19, 1886, which shows his good will and appreciation of our services. Therefore Resolved that our most sincere thanks be tendered to Mr. J. E. Tritsch for the courtesies shown us this evening.

Resolved that the Mingo Chief Fire Company of Logan, will be ever ready in the future as it has been in the past, to respond to the alarm of fire, and work faithfully to preserve the property and lives of the citizens of Logan.

Resolved that we tender our thanks to Mr. Montgomery and lady for a cup of hot coffee furnished the members of the company on the morning of the fire.

Resolved that the Mingo Chief Fire Company would hereby show our appreciation and respect for our worthy chief, R. O. Kitts, and our fire engineer, Henry Lutz, for their prompt and efficient services and their management of the company and engine during the fire of Keynes & Wellman's mill.

Sam Colburner, A. Steinman, Sec. Chairman.

The cost to the Tom Talbot Post, No. 143, G. A. R., and the citizens of Somerset, last week, for the reunion of the Thirty-first Regiment, O. V. I. amounts to about $5,000.

An outdoor tabernacle meeting commences in Somerset, on the fair grounds, August 21st, under the auspices of the A. M. E. church of Newark, and will continue over two Sundays.

At New Straitsville, last Friday afternoon, David D. Griffiths was repairing an old well, and in being hoisted up the rope broke and he fell back a distance of fifteen feet. His foot was broken, and otherwise injured.

The tenth annual reunion of the 128th O. V. I. will be held in Thornville, Perry Co., Thursday, August 26th, 1886.

The reunion of the 62nd will be held at New Lexington, on Sept. 2nd and 3d.

Mrs. McGonagle, wife of John A. McGonagle, Clerk of Court at New Lexington, died on Sunday, Aug. 8th, and was buried the Tuesday following.

The colored people of the Muskingum and Hocking Valleys will hold a camp meeting at Junction City, commencing Friday, August 20th, 1886, and continuing over two Sundays.

Athens County.

The discovery of a rich vein of clay, of a quality that will render it highly valuable for manufacturing uses, has been made on the lands of Mr. O. W. Bean, a mile east of Nelsonville.

Prof. G. P. Coler, who conducted the late Hocking County Teachers' Institute, is aiding in conducting the Athens County Institute, now in progress.

The shipments of coal from Nelsonville last week averaged 240 cars daily.

The Presbytery of Athens will meet at McConnellsville on the 7th of next month.

A LIVE VILLAGE.

Buchtel, O., Aug. 15th, '86.

ED. MESSENGER.—The men were paid here on the afternoon of the 14th, and so soon as a man gets his pay, the first thing he does is to go to a saloon and fill his hide with mean whiskey; then he wants to let the world know that he is one of the best men on earth, and these with the half-dozen harlots here keep the kettle of discontent boiling.

Below, I give you a short sketch of what transpired here on Saturday night, Aug. 14th:

Bob Lewis shot Eva Jones twice through the dress. No arrest.

Joseph Thomas shot old George Hunt in left groin. Warrant issued for Thomas, but he had decamped.

Chas. Scott lost his left ear by a cinder thrown by Gust Patterson. No arrest.

Nelson Robison gave Columbus Annie a good dressing.

All the above names are negroes. I don't know what may have transpired during Sunday and Monday nights.—J. J. LANE, in Athens Messenger.

Vinton County.

The citizens of McArthur are making liberal arrangements for the reunion at that place, on the 1st and 2d of next month.

A man giving his name as James Kavenaugh was arrested at Zaleski, in this county, last Friday, and lodged in the county jail, charged with kidnapping a boy aged about twelve years, named Fred Singenfeler, at Troy, Ohio.

Joseph Harbarger, aged thirty-five years, met with a fatal accident near Hope Furnace, in this county, last Friday afternoon. He was cutting timber in the woods, and in some unknown way he fell a tree upon himself, and sustained injuries from which he died next morning. He leaves a wife and several children.

Fairfield County.

Lancaster Eagle.

During a heavy thunder storm last week the stable of David Sands in Pleasantville, was struck by lightning and burned.

Oliver W. H. Wright, Esq., of Logan, was in Lancaster Monday, on legal business.

The Fairfield County Teachers' Institute began Monday, August 16, and is rapidly increasing in numbers and interest.

Our new Postmaster, J. M. Shellenberger, Esq., filed his official bond last Saturday.

Joe Dresbach, who figured conspicuously in our courts several years ago, was granted a license to marry Sarah A. McCallister, by Judge Busby, last week.

Mr. James P. Johnson, of Berne township, left a peach at this office that would take the first premium at any State fair. It measures 10 1/2 inches in circumference, and weighs nine ounces.

The safe of Mr. S. K. Valentine, at Stoutsville, was blown open on Friday night about midnight, and the burglars got only one old copper for their trouble.

The Camp Meeting Association paid Messrs. Jones and Small $700 and expenses. It leaked out that the Association intended to give them $300, but the evangelists kicked and threatened to leave on Friday evening. The managers were powerless and could not allow them to depart after having advertised so extensively that they would remain on Sunday. At almost every meeting Jones emphatically stated that he was not preaching for money, but was serving the Lord, but it seems that he suddenly changed his mind when pay day came around, and concluded to gobble all he could get.—Eagle.

GENTLEMEN OF THE DEMOCRAT:—May one of the Democracy of Washington township, have space in the columns of your very welcome paper? We are having some dry weather now, and the prospect for corn is very bad, and it is badly injured by the grub worm.

Rev. Dick is giving a series of singings here and all are well pleased with his instruction, and the class is doing good work under his teaching.

Mr. F. M. Gordon is teaching in sub. district No. 4, just begun last Monday, but dismissed to attend the Institute.

There is no man in our part of the country more elated than Mr. Grant Reichley who is now papa, it's a girl, and he writes all his friends to call and see the little stranger, his brother Conrad is at a loss to know whether the family incident makes him aunt or uncle, but thinks he must be aunt, so we conclude Mr. Sam'l Reichley must be grandmother.

J. W. Schaal is keeping his mill running very nearly all the time which shows that he has an eye to business and succeeds well.

We regret to state that Mr. Wm. Riggs buried his little girl last Sat. we did not learn cause of death. Thus the reaper Death gathers the flowers as well as the bearded grain.

Mr. John Bainter is slowly convalescing, but not able to work any yet.

Miss Lizzie Cook is improving slowly from the terrible fall she received.

A case of litigation will occur at court Martin, of Ewing, Ohio; parties interested are Mr. Wm. Bowers and brother, Nicholas Bowers.

We almost failed to learn in time of the nuptial entertainment held Aug. 11, at B. Gordon's, much to the pleasure of Mr. Fred Bowers and Miss Rose Gordon; we throw our shoe after them, with further compliments congratulating them on hymen's journey. DUNDEN.

Letter from Florida.

DELAND, Volusia Co., Florida, August 11th, 1886.

DEAR COUSIN:—I wish to thank you for the receipt of your very interesting and valuable paper which should prosper as richly as deserved. You wished to hear something about this section of Florida, the climate, people, produce, etc. In the first place, nearly all of this country where it is settled up, is a sort of winter resort for invalids and northern people that wish to escape the severities of the winter.

They begin to come from the last of September until after the holidays, filling the hotels and boarding houses which are plenty, many prefer renting rooms and boarding themselves, or take their meals at the restaurants at about thirty-five cents a great many rent cottages and keep house. Many have bought lots and built winter cottages and shut them up for the summer, and intend to remain the year round. The people here are from nearly all the Northern States, and the society is first-class and very desirable for any one that likes good company. The climate is delightful the year round, one can live out of doors nearly half of the time the climate is mild. The summers seem long and warm, but we have delightfully cool nights and mornings to enjoy sleep. We nearly always have very heavy dews that begin to dry off about 8 or 9 o'clock, a. m., then it begins to get pretty warm, and we feel inclined to go in the shade or indoors until 4 or 5 o'clock, p. m., but the heat is different from that over here, the heat of the North owing to the constant cool sea breeze that is so refreshing and we feel the benefit of it once in the shade. One that is not obliged to shut out the sun during the day, can keep quite comfortable during the summer here. Now we are having the rainy season, that begins in June and lasts until in Sept. Thereafter we have occasional showers. The rainy season is what we call the "good" season, when we can plant almost any kind of fruit or shrub, or flowers, expecting them to grow. My next neighbor transplanted four large orange trees, full of half-grown fruit, last month, and they have done well; they are putting on a new growth and ripen a nice crop of fruit. They have also planted a number of figs, guavas, citrus shrubs, flowers, and tropical plants, which have done exceedingly well. We also plant a great deal in November and January—trees, etc. We have had the most delicious watermelons, that I ever tasted, planted last February. A Mrs. D. M. D. has raised some from here, in the country, has cleared 3,000 oranges, of ten acres of young orange grove ground, in the latter part of June and the fore part of July. She shipped North five car loads at one time. The melons averaged 20 lbs. each, and were of a fine quality, and considerable fertilizer to do it but she did not use any in the end. One man raised 40 acres and did splendidly, so you see there is something raised besides oranges; and on the same ground, while the trees are coming into bearing and growing, by watching the season and preparing a rich soil, almost anything can be grown here that can be grown on a sandy soil. It is astonishing how rank and thrifty a great many things do grow during the summer. But sometimes we don't have any rain for four or five weeks. Then unless one can draw water from a well, or have a very well, as they call them, and dry out. It is splendid in such a case to have a good long hose and sprinkler, and water your plants of evenings, and have a good pump in case of watering trees. The heavy morning dews, and a rich soil, and a good pump, and four or five kinds of Southern peas do well here without much, if any, fertilizer to tolerate good ground. The peas are good to eat, and make a rich fertilizer to be plowed in, and raise three or four crops a year. As to the oranges, they are a great variety of sizes, and they do well with water, and the use of fertilizer—that is indispensable here as well as in the North. The most I miss here is the nice fields of grain and lovely grass, and the Northern fruits, of which many kinds do not flourish here. We have to plant Bermuda grass if we wish a nice lawn. They plant the tall, rank growing grass for horses and cows, and cut it off every day, keeping it fresh. The poultry business is good, but they have to prepare for it by fencing and planting grass and peas, and sowing rice and barley, to have a good crop, and to cut it up and use it, or they will eat the garden and flowers as there is so little they can get beside. They require corn once a day. Eggs bring from 25 to 35 cents per dozen, and grown fowls are worth 50 to 60 cents each. The expense of butchering is not as much as in the North, as houses do not have ice built warm. A great many persons put a good roof on and enclose the frame of their buildings and live in them until they can afford to finish them; many persons live in tents, but in a hard rain that is not comfortable. There are no cellars under the houses here, the ground is so warm and damp that everything gets musty and spoils; the houses are set up from the ground 2 to 2 1/2 feet and latticed around, to make them dry and cool. Lady, butter and victuals keep cool in a good airy, shady place with plenty of fruit and green protection. Florida is being settled up very rapidly, and little towns are springing up in many places, on high, rolling, land. There are lovely little lakes and springs of very pure water, filled with nice fish, that can be had without any cost but the fishing. As the climate is nearly everything with the abundance of invalids, winter Florida is bound to be a permanent winter resort for all those who can not afford to go back and forth. We have now such direct transportation, both by rail and by water, that we can live as cheaply here as in the North, if we choose, as almost everything is shipped to this region by the quantity from the North. Some things are even cheaper, in regard to provisions. The white or light gray sand everywhere looked very desert-like to me when I first came; but they are so very strong and hard, and they stand the heat far better out of doors all day than many white men, although some do work out, all through the heat of the day, right along. This town is seven years old and has 2,000 inhabitants, with a college and academy combined, and a large dormitory on the college grounds, that can accommodate sixty students; the town has also a free school and a free colored school, seven churches, well attended, except the Baptist, and a fine little library. The value of property is on the increase and in many instances has doubled. I don't know of anything but anything of interest or new to any one, but if anything is of interest, make such use of it as you see proper. I am Yours Respectfully,

Mrs. M. A. WEBSTER.

The Anarchists Must Die.

The following is the verdict of the jury in the trial of Anarchists in Chicago.

"We the jury, find the defendants, August Spies, Michael Schwab, Samuel Fielden, Albert K. Parsons, Adolph Fischer, George Engel and Louis Lingg, guilty of murder as charged in the indictment, and fix the penalty as death. We find the defendant, Oscar W. Neebe, guilty of murder in the manner and form charged in the indictment, and fix the penalty at imprisonment in the Penitentiary for fifteen years.

—Yank McCarthy has been seriously ill this week.

—A. C. Murphy has been appointed Infermy Superintendent in place of Nixon whose time expired.

—We learn as we go to press that the Boarding-house of Mr. Murphy, across the canal was burglarized last night and several parties were robbed.
